Annexation Question Looms

Decision On Ballot Pending

Although no final decision has been rendered by the attorney general's office, it appeared Monday that County Clerk Tommy Lair acted properly in conduct of absentee balloting on the airport bond issue.

Members of commissioners court heard this information Monday during a regular meeting.

Two ballots were available in the recent absentee voting here. One was for the general election and one was for voting on a proposed $500,000 county airport bond.

Lair's office made the airport bond issue ballot available upon request. Only 35 persons out of 1143 who voted absentee cast ballots on the bond issue.

Proponents of the issue contend that those conducting the absentee voting may be required to offer ballots on all questions before the voters whether these ballots specifically are requested or not.

Mary K. Wall, election expert with the attorney general's office, told Randall County Criminal District George Dowlen that she knows of no statute requiring the county clerk to offer ballots for absentee voting without request.

Action on the Randall County case has been delayed because of another case, but a definite ruling has been promised in the near future.

Commissioners took no action on purchase of more voting machines. The county owns 34 machines and has had eight more on loan from Rockwell Manufacturing Company for the past two years.

News Helps Santa Claus

The Canyon News will be Santa's helper again this year.

Youngsters who want to write letters to Santa Claus should address them to The Canyon News, Box 240, Canyon, Texas.

We will copy the letters, print them in our big Christmas edition, then mail them on to Santa Claus at the North Pole.

All letters to Santa will be printed, and must be in the News office by Monday, Dec. 21.

Lighting Contest Underway

Glistening trees and shining eyes of children are a part of Christmas as are gaily decorated homes, both inside and out.

Canyon's Junior Chamber of Commerce is again sponsoring their annual outdoor lighting contest, giving Canyon residents a chance to share the spirit of Christmas with passersby.

Businessmen may enter the commercial division of the contest, and persons living within six miles of Canyon may enter the residential division.

"We will have two winners in each division", said Jackie Whitley, chairman of the contest. "Winners in the commercial division will receive plaques, while the first place winner in residential division will receive a $50 cash prize in addition to a plaque. Also, the winner of second place in residential division will be awarded a $25 cash prize and a plaque, Whitley declared.

"We want to urge everyone to enter the contest and brighten the exterior of Canyon's homes, as the Christmas lighting downtown has brightened the streets, Whitley said.

Contest entries must be turned in to Whitley by 5 p.m. Dec. 18. He may be reached at either OL 5-3915 or OL 5-8897.

Judging by a group of Jaycees will be the night of Dec. 18, with awards being presented at the Merchant Appreciation Day, Dec. 19 on the Square.

Garnering honors in last years residential contest were Joe Frank and J. Mack White, while winners in the commercial division were Southwestern Public Service and Stevens Floral Co.

Commission Eyes Development Lines

BY MARGO WILLIAMS

Canyon City Commissioners tabled a request Thursday by city developer Arch Hunsley to alter boundaries in an annexed area north of Canyon.

Hunsley, represented by his attorney at a called meeting Thursday night, presented a survey with a proposed boundary line.

The line, which Hunsley proposes, roughly follows a creek in the northern section of the territory.

The city has made a move to annex 360 acres north of Canyon in the Hunsley Hills Addition. The new boundary line would put only 212 acres in the annexed area: 148 acres less than the original 360 acres of the annexation.

Commissioners discussed with Wayne Sturdivant, Hunsley's attorney, possibilities and problems in changing the boundary line at this time.

The city began proceeding several weeks ago to annex the 360 acres involuntarily. A public hearing on the possible move was held at the city hall, with some 20 Hunsley Hills appearing before the city dads.

Most residents were opposed to the annexation, but after discussion concerning the future growth of area north of Canyon, commissioners voted to begin annexation proceedings.

At the Thursday night meeting last week, Sturdivant of Amarillo, asked the city commissioners to drop the boundary line southward to follow the creek, thus eliminating any of the Hunsley Hills golf course from the city limits.

Sturdivant pointed out that if commissioners voted to take into consideration the new boundary, annexation proceeding would have to begin again.

"If you begin again now, I seriously doubt that you can place the property in the annexed area on the 1964 tax rolls," Sturdivant said.

"We want to sit down with you gentlemen and work something out.

"We would like to have the boundary changed so the golf course would not be included. But if you gentlemen think it would be best for the city to take in all that is already proposed, then you should do it."

"We only want to do what is right. I think it is right to leave part of the area out, you may feel it is right to keep it all in the city limits," Sturdivant continued.

Discussion continued with commissioners pointing out that if proceedings began now, the area would be annexed by the first week of January, but not in time to be placed on this year's tax rolls.

"That area will get city services, but they will not have to pay city taxes," city manager Dewey Bryant said.

Sturdivant said he doubted that water and sewer could be brought into the area for at least a year.

"So why put them on the Canyon's first courthouse will soon be gone from its site in the 1300 block of Fourth Avenue. The old structure was first built in September of 1889 and was used as the county government building until 1909. Since that time it has been a boarding house under the name of Home Canyon. First Presbyterian Church of Canyon owns the building and is taking bids to have it removed from the lot. The space will be used for a parking area for the church.

Sheriff Injured

Randall County Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston was injured last week when his left leg was caught in a power shaft of a baling machine.

Johnston was adjusting the baler at the time of the incident when his foot slipped. Several stitches were taken in his leg, and he has remained in bed since the accident, Wednesday, Dec. 2.

"I hope to be back on my feet in a few days," Johnston said Tuesday.

The accident occured on Johnston property north of Canyon.

City Ready To Supply Trash Cans

New trash cans for city residents have been delivered to Canyon, and orders are being taken at the City Hall for the containers.

Dewey Bryant, city manager, said Tuesday the first shipment of cans have been unloaded at the new city barn. Members of Alpha Tau Omega, West Texas State University social fraternity, will deliver the cans.

"The fraternity members will take the orders, which have been placed at the City Hall, and deliver the cans to each home. That way people merely have to place their order, and we will do the rest," Bryant said.

Cans are $3.10 per can and a limit of three cans to each home has been set.

"We urge residents to come in now. The earlier they place their order, the sooner we can get their containers delivered," Bryant said.

Cotton Vote Set Tuesday

Randall County cotton producers will vote next Tuesday on marketing quotas for the 1965 upland cotton crop, according to John E. "Jack" Frost, county ASCS chairman.

Producers in communities A, E, F and G will vote at the Randall County ASCS office in Canyon. Producers in communities B and C will vote at Ralph Switch elevator and producers in community D will vote at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Umbarger.

Polls will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the evening.

At issue in this year's vote also is the "domistic allotment" program provided by legislation last spring, under which growers may qualify for price support payments---in addition to loans---by keeping their cotton acreage within the farm's domistic allotment.

Farmers eligible to cast ballots are all those who engaged in production of cotton in 1964. Wives of such producers also are eligible to vote.

Frost said issues to be decided in this year's referendum are (1) quotas or no quotas, (2) the level of price support to be available for the 1965 crop and (3) whether the domestic allotment program is to be in effect for upland cotton.

If the vote is favorable, quotas will be in effect for the 1965 crop with penalties on any excess cotton produced on a farm. Price support to growers who do not exceed the farm's acreage allotment will be available at a level between 65 and 90 percent of parity and extra price support in the form of payments may be earned by farmers who keep within the farm's domestic allotment.

If the vote is not favorable, there will be no quotas or penalties applicable to the 1965 crop, no price support payments and regular price support to growers who do not exceed their areage allotments will be at a 50 percent of parity, as directed by law, Frost reported.

Boys Blast Bob's Beanery

We Do Our Best-Clark

BY TROY MARTIN

"Porky, porky, porky, not a streak of lean.

Soupy, soupy, soupy, not a dadburned bean."

Lyrics to the old army mess call are symbolic of the dissatisfaction regimented and semi-regimented youth have always felt for the food set before them.

Youth at West Texas State University, where several young men last week staged a food "riot" at the West Cafeteria, are no different.

The "riot", if it can be called that, took place at the evening meal Wednesday of last week.

School authorities said some 20 to 25 men students, all from Stafford Hall, took part in the incident.

Food was thrown and a few trays were overturned. The demonstration was reported to have lasted only a few seconds.

Students who participated said they were dissatisfied with the quality and quantity of food being served at the cafeteria.

One student from Stafford Hall said not more than five or six students actually participated. He said several students sitting among the demonstrators left the table to keep from being hit with food being thrown.

Participants in the demonstration then overturned several trays, giving the illusion that the students who had left the table had also participated.

Dr. T. Paige Carruth, dean of student life, said there had been previous complaints from students and that cafeteria officials had been trying to do something about them.

He said a committee of men from Stafford Hall had met with B. R. Clark, director of food services, and his assistant, Stan Wilder, about three weeks ago.

Clark said the committee had some legitimate complaints and that these were being ironed out before the demonstration last week.

Here's what one member of the committee had to say: "We discussed our problems with the cafeteria people and you can tell by the meals that they are trying. It's far from what we want but they are trying."

Quantity and quality of the meat served created most dissatisfaction, according to the committee member.

Clark said that portions have been increased since the meeting with the committee.

"We couldn't see any reason for the riot," the committee member went on. "It ruined everything we had tried to do in the committee meeting. We absolutely didn't support that food riot although we do agree that the students have a legitimate gripe."

A participant in the demonstration said quality, quantity and sanitation of the food served are the basis for complaint.

"This was not vandalism," he declared, referring to the demonstration. "We had an ax to grind. We met with cafeteria supervisors three weeks before the riot with no results. All we want is better food and more of it."

"We buy the best that can be bought," Clark declared.

The director of food services said there had been justification in the student complaint on quantity of food served.

He said that in some cases serving girls weren't putting enough food on trays.

"We've got that corrected now," he declared.

Clark said some youngsters snack between meals and then come to the cafeteria with no appetite.

"They think the food is bad then," he asserted.

Clark said he thinks the committee idea is a good one. He suggested that representatives from all dormitories form a committee to meet with cafe-

Linda Lowes To State Band

Linda Lowes, Canyon High School senior, was named to the Texas All-State Band during tryouts Saturday in Amarillo.

Miss Lowes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Lowes, will join other members of the state band in Dallas February 11-13 for three days of rehearsing before a concert Feb. 13.

Miss Lowes, a member of the high school band for four years, was named to the All-Region Band last week, then was picked as outstanding flute player at the region band concert.

After reaching Dallas in February, Miss Lowes will tryout again for position in the flute section and for the reading band or the All-State Band.

A concert featuring the All-State band, orchestra, and choir will conclude the three-day session in Dallas, according to Gary Zook, band director at CHS.

Miss Lowes has played in the All-Region Band for four years and went to the area tryouts during her sophomore year. She has attended band camp for four years and was named Outstanding Bandsman at the 1964 summer camp at West Texas State University.

She has won two Division I medals at solo contests in the region, and won a Division I rating at Tri-State contest last year in Enid, Oklahoma. She won a Division I rating on her flute solo at state competition last year.

Miss Lowes serves as librarian for the high school band, and served as squad leader for two years. She was in the Library Club for a year, and presently is pianist for the Future Homemakers of America.

The attractive, high school senior plans to attend West Texas State University next fall majoring in elementary education with a minor in music.

Santa Fe Asks Train Stoppage

The Santa Fe wants to discontinue passenger service from Amarillo to Lubbock on the Santa Fe line that runs through Canyon.

After years of diminishing revenues Santa Fe Railway plans to file application for the discontinuance of Trains 93 and 94, operating between Amarillo and Lubbock, Santa Fe officials said Wednesday.

Announcement of this intention was made by F. E. Hanlon, general passenger agent for the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway Co., Amarillo.

"I am sure many civic leaders in Lubbock, Amarillo and in the intermediate cities served by these trains are aware this operation has been quite costly," Hanlon said. "Passenger and other revenues have decreased while operating costs have mounted alarmingly the past few years.

"Records show that for the past year ending with August, 1964, the total number of revenue passengers handled on these trains averages out to 13.7 per train mile. The trains' entire revenue amounted to $46,848 for the year ending in August this year. The total cost of operating the trains was $161,120, thereby reflecting a net loss of $114,272."

According to Hanlon, wages and fringe benefits paid the train crew only, during this period, amounted to $74,997 as contrasted to passenger revenue of $28,222 and $18,555

Christmas Rush

Orville Hicks seems to be somewhat amazed at the stack of mail which has been processed at the Canyon Post Office. The huge stack of sacked mail and packages is only part of what will face workers at the local post office during the Christmas holidays. Marion Higdon, post master, urges residents to get cards and gifts in the mail early to insure prompt delivery.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

by Troy Martin

There's a story going the rounds that Walter Rogers will resign some time after the first of the year to accept a lucrative job in a private industry.

We have not talked to Congressman Rogers about this and so have not ascertained the facts.

However, the Congressman well might be looking about since he seems to have very little going for him at the present time.

From outward appearances, he is not on the best of terms with the White House. He ran for re-election on the "Keep the Panhandle Growing" theme with lavish use of jet bomber pictures on television.

Hardly had the vote been canvassed before the announcement that those jet bombers were soon to wing out from Amarillo Air Force Base no more.

The announcement on the phasing out of Amarillo Air Force Base was particularly embarrassing to the Congressman from the 18th District. The administration dropped the axe without giving Rogers any prior notice at all.

Amarillo newsmen tell us that Rogers first heard the announcement on a newscast.

In spite of the fact that we have bitterly opposed Rogers during election campaigns in the past, we have found ourselves in his corner a number of times.

For instance, Rogers opposed the Civil Rights Bill calling it one of the worst pieces of legislation ever passed by a US Congress.

We are rather amused at the liberal Republican governors who glibly declare that they will save the party now that Barry Goldwater has led it down the road to defeat.

In the van of this group, of course, is Nelson Rockefeller, who did more than anyone else to wreck the chances of the Goldwater-Miller ticket.

Rockefeller is an experienced wrecker. He wrecks political parties and homes.

A friend of ours who is making a study of the problem, says no great strides in the field of education can be made in Texas until more freedom of action is given presidents of institutions of higher learning.

He says a great many decisions now being made by the board of regents should be left in the hands of the administrations of such institutions of higher learning as West Texas State University.

He noted particularly that decisions on whether or not to offer certain courses should be left strictly up to the president of the institution involved.

If the president is competent, give him a fairly free hand, our friend urges. If he's not competent, then get someone who is.

Clay Cooper, Hosea Foster and Dr. W. J. Wooten called Worth Jennings from the Gulf just before Thanksgiving to tell him the fishing was great.

The hour being late, the fishermen talkative and the call collect, made Worth understandably nervous as the minutes ticked away.

Unable to get away from his store to join them, Jennings viewed with a jaundiced eye the tales of piscatorial successes related by his friends at his expense.

Next day, Worth had his revenge. He sent flowers to the wives of the three garrulous fishermen. The bills were sent to Wooten, Cooper and Foster, of course.

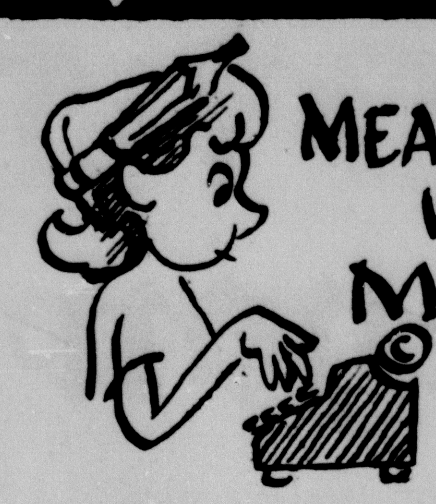
MEANDERING WITH MARGO



Food tossing at WT last week in protest of meals served at the cafeterias seemed to be a rather poor move.

Not just the mess involved, but actually what was accomplished with the act.

Dormitory food is notorious for being bad. Students complain that it is too starchy, not enough starch, too little, too much of the poorly cooked food, not enough variety, bad choice of vegetables, poorly prepared meals...or just not what a particular student likes a particular day.

I've eaten at the WT cafeterias on several occasions during the school year, and from a fairly seasoned "dorm food consumer", things haven't been all that bad.

Granted, some days the food would be better off left in the freezer, but on some days the meals are pretty good.

Just as Mother can't prepare three perfect meals 365 days each year, for her five-member household, a cafeteria, which must feed about 1500 students daily, can't be expected to have scrumptious menus ALL the time.

My first experience with cooking away from home, was at a private girls' school in Mississippi. Talk about delicious meals...gee...hot, fresh home-cooked bread each meal, desserts made for each and every occasion, and waiters for each table in the dining hall.

Needless to say, by the time I got to Texas Tech the following year, nothing looked too pleasing. In fact, my mother's cooking seemed to lack certain qualities which I had grown accustomed to in nine months at the school.

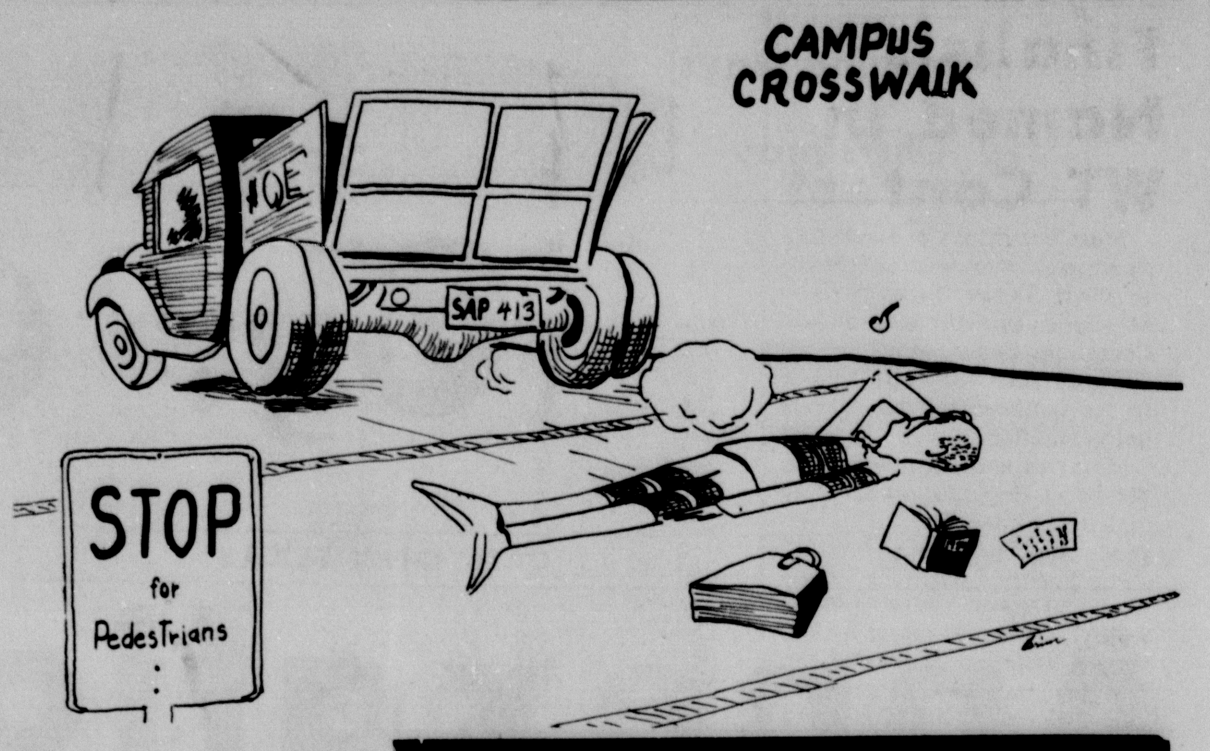
After a year at Tech, I took on Oklahoma University, where I either had grown used to mass cooking, or the food was actually better. At OU, the dormitory cooking seemed to be far superior than I have seen anywhere...and granted my experience is limited.

Students in Norman complained of the food, but I just told them they hadn't attended Tech.

I spent one summer at WT as a student, and ate regularly in the cafeteria. The food was not as good, in general, as it was at OU, but it was far superior to what I remember of Tech's dorm cooking.

We all have a tendency to complain...a great release of excess emotions...and the food situation is usually a good subject.

But generally school officials are willing to listen to legitimate complaints and work with students in improving conditions.



Braden Faces More Charges

More charges have been filed. against William Barry Braden, 30 years old, West Texas State University student, authorities said this week.

Officers said Braden is charged in connection with the alleged theft of a typewriter from Buffalo Book Store.

Justice of the Peace W. A. "Bill" Wilson said Braden is free on $2500 bond.

Felony theft charges were filed here last week against Braden in connection with the alleged theft of a microscope from the biology department at West Texas State University.

Deputy Sheriff Cliff Longest said Braden faces similar charges in Amarillo.

Officers said bond of $1000 has been posted in connection with the charge filed here last week and that a similar bond has been posted in connection with the Amarillo charges.

Traffic Controls

AN EDITORIAL

Burl Brim's cartoon on this page aptly demonstrates the need for safety precautions at student crossings of Fourth Avenue in the campus vicinity.

That tragedy has been avoided up to this time is little short of a miracle.

The University is growing and we can expect heavier pedestrian and motor traffic in the area in the not too distant future.

Traffic control lights are needed at university intersections along Fourth. The lights should be set for time to favor the pedestrian. The laws against jaywalking should be rigidly enforced so as to insure use of the protected crossings.

We hope something can be done before someone is killed or seriously injured.

(Have you priced a tiger lately?)

If you're handy with a whip and chair, you could go for the 360-hp GTO. It bites. But then, even the 335-hp GTO bites. So it all depends on how much you think you can chew. If you want a slightly more civilized package (but with all the growl and lots of the muscle of the GTO), try the LeMans. You can get it with a six or either of two V-8s. They all have magnificent interior appointments that make you feel you're languishing in luxury. Like bucket seats. And full carpeting. Yet they cost less than some very tame cats that go around trying to pass themselves off as tigers but who can't even manage the growl. How do we do it? That's our secret. CHS Girls Find Dimmitt Tough

Things could've looked better Tuesday night for the Canyon High School basketball girls.

Coach Royce Elam and his team of eager girls were a little discouraged after their crashing defeat in Dimmitt to the tune of 56-31.

The game looked pretty bright at the end of the first quarter. In fact things were still pretty exciting by half. But Then the trouble began.

Canyon led the ballgame at the end of the first period, 13-8. Then just before half time, Dimmitt bucketed a shot as the buzzer sounded, and took a two point lead into the locker room, 23-21.

As the girls hit the floor for the third quarter, they looked eager to play, but somewhat tense.

"We didn't score but two points in the third quarter. The girls wanted to win so badly, they were trying too hard," Elam said.

The quarter dragged on, with the girls trying, Dimmitt scoring and game prospects darkening.

By the fourth quarter the score stood at 46-23 with Dimmitt in a comfortable lead.

The girls loosened up some during the final period, but were unable to close the gap which had been dug by the Dimmitt six during the third quarter. Final score of the Tuesday night game was 56-32.

"The kids tightened up in the second half. We played good ball first half. They looked good.. a lot better than they had against Tulia Saturday.

"It's a matter of lack of experience. They played good ball, then when Dimmitt began putting on pressure the second half, they tightened up," Elam explained.

But things are not all black for these energetic females.

"We all decided that we are going to improve each day during workout and each week in every game.

"We have improved since we played Tulia last week in the West Texas State Tournament The girls looked good, they played good ball.

"We can't expect them to win them all. We are going to improve every game," Elam continued.

"They feel really bad about losing. They want to win. In fact they wanted to win so badly, they probably tightened up to play better ball...instead of relaxing and just playing basketball."

"We will lose some, but the girls will improve as the year goes. Any team we play is going to know they played a ball game, even if they do win," Elam emphasized.

Girls meet Cotton Center at 4:30 p.m. today, Thursday, in the Abernathy tournament.

tax rolls if they won't receive the services?" Sturdivant queried.

"We will get those services to them as quickly as possible. Much of the time element will depend on them," Commissioner Paul Lindsey said.

"We may not have water and sewer for several months but we still provide street lights, fire protection, police protection and garbage collection. Is it fair for them to have part of the services with no taxes?" Bryant asked.

"We have every intention of extending all city services to them as quickly as possible. The length of time required to get water and sewer services to the area will depend largely on the people in Hunsley Hills," Bryant said.

"Why can't we go ahead with the annexation proceedings, and let them ask for deannexation of the 148 acres?" Lindsey pondered.

"It seems to me the logical way is to delete the property after it has been annexed," Bryant noted.

"I don't see that it would hurt to begin proceedings again and follow the line that Mr. Hunsley has proposed. We hadn't seriously considered the taxing angle when we began this thing before," Commissioner John Williams said.

"I can't see anything wrong with their proposal," Commissioner Jack Haley said.

This is a unique situation that would come up before a city once every 100 years. Legally you gentlemen do not have to accept any of their proposals. I don't know that it would hurt for you to follow Mr. Hunsley's plans, but legally you do not have to," City Attorney A. W. Lair said.

Commissioners decided to postpone a decision until a later meeting.

"If we don't change it, it won't make any difference for us to wait. If we do change it we have plenty of time," one commissioner pointed out.

In other action Thursday, Commioners appointed Burney Slack assistant city corporate judge on the recommendation of manager Bryant.

"Often people will come in and wait for some time if Judge Clark (Judge D. P. Clark) is out of the office going to the post office or something. "This way Burney will be able to handle the proceedings if someone comes in. They won't have to wait," Bryant explained.

Commissioners also awarded two bids after hearing recommendations from city engineer Bill McMorries.

McDonald Drilling Company of Amarillo turned in a bid of $26,000. for two water wells. Commissioners accepted their bid.

For water facilities which must be installed for the city, commissioners accepted the bid of Enix Company of Amarillo at $18,859.85. McMorries recommended both bids.

Bryant was authorized to sign city bonds which are to be reinvested, according to commissioners.

Santa. . .

for express.

He said that Trains 93 and 94 suffered a number of reverses over the years, dating back to the loss of the U. S. mail contract in 1954. The railroad found it necessary finally, in August, 1963, to eliminate Pullman car service.

The rail executive also cited the competitive growth of the private automobile on short distance trips. He called especial attention to the divided highway which parallels the Santa Fe tracks nearly all of the way between Amarillo and Lubbock.

At the time of the mail contract's loss in 1954, Hanlon declared, the railway company considered discontinuing Trains 93 and 94. However, a number of influential civic leaders in the area suggested that if a new lightweight train with modern conveniences were introduced it would pay its way. The company agreed to this innovation on an experimental basis, but over the years the losses have continued to mount and it is no longer economically feasible to continue the operation, he said.

Hanlon emphasized, however, that the railroad was spending considerable money on new passenger equipment, noting that Santa Fe this year placed in service 24 new Hi-Level chair cars at a cost of $10 million, and 11 sleeping cars which will be used to take care of transcontinental passenger business originating in large population centers.

Decision. . .

County auditor E. T. Cummings told commissioners that the county's option to purchase the machines ran out in August. Under the agreement with the company, the county could have bought the machines for $1789 each, Cummings said.

Commissioners received a letter this week from the company asking for action on disposition of eight machines. The county clerk only last month following the general election told the court that the county needs more voting machines.

Commissioner Clarence Beckman said he favors advertising for bids on purchase of any additional voting machines.

In other action, the court authorized Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston to use his discretion on whether to accept the second lowest bid in purchase of a car for his department.

Low bid recently was submitted by Plains Chevrolet but a General Motors Strike has held up delivery of the car, which Johnston says his department needs immediately.

The court gave its endorsement to proposed legislation which would make district and county clerk fees uniform across the state.

The bill is sponsored by the Texas Association of County and District Clerks.

In other action, the court approved a public weigher's bond for Leroy Coldeway, an employee of Armstrong Transfer and Storage Company. The court also authorized advertisement for bids for supplies for the county clerk's office.

teria supervisors at regular intervals.

"We'd meet with them once a week if they want to meet that often," he declared.

Dormitory students pay $70 a month room and board. Of this amount $40 is for food. This provides for three meals a day through the week and one meal on Sunday.

Clark has been director of food services at WT for the past 11 years. He has lived in Canyon since 1931 and during 18 years of that time operated a cafe.

He is employed by the university on a salary basis.

Business Manager Joe Hooper said Clark's salary is not in any way connected with the profit or loss shown by the cafeteria system.

Stan Wilder, Clark's assistant, has been with the university two years. He was assistant manager of the Coronado Inn at Pampa before moving to Canyon.

Seismograph Crews Work In County

Sunray Oil Company seismograph crews have been working in the southwest part of the county, according to Paul Lindsey, a property owner in that area.

Lindsey said a crew worked his place west of Ralph Switch. Seismograph activity has been reported at other points in that portion of the county.

In the meantime, Sunray has begun recording oil and gas leases at the county clerk's office in Randall County court house.

Leases have been on land in the northwest part of the county.

Sunray has paid a $5 an acre bonus with a $1 an acre delay rental on a 10-year lease, in that area.

Boy Scouts

Twenty-two boys were present at troop 108's regular meeting Monday night. We are still needing a few boys to bring the troop to full strength. Boys interested in joining are invited to visit any Monday night. Meetings begin at 7 p.m. and end at 8:30 p.m.

Floyd Lassiter talked on first aid at the meeting. He stressed the importance of first aid and the satisfaction a person feels who knows he is capable of dealing with a situation where a person's life might be at stake.

Johnny Barrett was selected as scout of the month. The scout of the month is selected by his attendance record, wearing the uniform at meetings, and various other scouting activities. Johnny will be guest of the Rotary Club at one of their weekly meetings. Congratulations, Johnny, and keep up the good work.

Thirteen boys have signed up to go to Sipapu for our winter camp. This trip had to be delayed until the first weekend in January since it conflicted so much with the Christmas holidays to go just before Christmas.

Cub Scouts

Den 2, pack 131 met with 9 members present for their regular meeting. Work on Christmas gifts for parents was completed and Santa Claus table decorations were made for the pack meeting in December. Ricky McCarter served refreshments.

Canyon is decked out for Christmas---all dressed up with bright lights and beautiful decorations. Roland Black, Chamber of Commerce manager, begins to unwind the many colored lights which now adorn the streets of the square and 23rd Street. Lights, which are furnished by member merchants of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, will remain up until after Christmas.

Mighty Hawks Trip CHS Eagles

Canyon's Eagles fell prey to the Blackhawks of Phillips at Phillips Tuesday night but even in defeat Coach Roy Kieval was pleased with the performance of his charges.

The score was 67-47 in favor of Phillips but the Eagles played a better game than the score indicates.

Kieval described the game as the best played by the Eagles so far this season.

The Eagles led by two points at the end of the first quarter but the Hawks had pulled ahead 37 to 26 by half time. The score at the end of the third period was 49 to 35.

The Eagles out rebounded the Hawks. Canyon took 36 rebounds while the Blackhawks pounced on only 23.

"I was pleased with the team effort," said Coach Kieval. "It was the best we've looked all season. They've come a long way since our first ball game."

The Eagles hit only 41 percent of their field goal tries with only 17 field goals for 41 shots. They were hot at the free throw line hitting 68 percent of their gratis shots.

The Hawks hit 52 percent of their field goal tries and had a 63 percent record on free throws.

Ricky Bacon was high point man for Canyon with 14 points to his credit. He also plucked off 16 rebounds.

Dennis Haley scored 13 points and Joe Moore 8 points. Tom Lair scored 7 points and played a fine floor game he was credited with five assists and six recoveries.

Tommy Higgins scored five points and picked off 10 rebounds.

Larry Lewis, Hawk guard, was top scorer of the game. He hit for 28 points---one point below his game average of 29 points. Lewis was named to the all tournament team at the Plainview tournament last week end.

Canyon's B team lost to the Phillips B team 70 to 51. Mark Lair with 15 points was high scorer for the Eagles.

The Eagles took the consolation trophy last Saturday in the West Texas State University high school cage tournament at the field house.

The Eagles tripped Boys Ranch 53 to 37 in the consolation round. Joe Moore was high point with 18 points to his credit. Higgins scored 10 points in that encounter.

The Eagles lost to Friona 47 to 28 in their tournament opener. Higgins scored 11 points for Canyon.

The Eagles open in the Abernathy tournament at Abernathy at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon against Olton. Finals in that tourney will be played Saturday.

First home game will be against Happy at 8 o'clock and a girls game will be played at 6:30.

Pete Brasuel, left, and Mike Branum, far right, check Larry Wooten over with gieger counters during an Atomic Energy lesson last Thursday night. Scouts in Troop 31 are working on their merit badge in atomic energy and Thursday's session was the first in a four-week series. The boys will make gieger counters, study radiation, and hear lectures from men at the Pantex Plant in Amarillo, who will give special talks on radiation.

WTBuffs Travel For Four Games

West Texas State plays the first of four consecutive road games this week end in Abilene.

Thursday the Buffaloes meet Abilene Christian (1-2) and Friday's opponent is McMurry (3-1).

The two Abilene schools have widely contrasting styles of play. Abilene Christian, 18-9 last year with an 86-plus scoring average, is "Putting the ball in the freezer" this season. They dropped a 54-42 decision to Oklahoma State at Stillwater, upended high-scoring Howard Payne 57-55 then dropped a 43-41 squeaker at Midwestern Monday night.

In Monday's game, the Wildcats fell behind 42-41 with 13 minutes to play and proceeded to hold the ball for 12 and one-half minutes, subsequently losing same on a back court violation. They did get the last shot, a desperation one from the side by Charles Cleek, a 6-8 jumpshooter of some note.

McMurry, on the other hand, has been held under 90 points only by Texas Tech, who handed the Indians their only loss of the season at Lubbock 114-70.

The Indians have averaged 88.5 points per game and have defeated Sul Ross State 91-70 and 103-87. The Buffs whipped the Lobos 87-66 a week ago.

Preston Vice, NAIA All-America, holds McMurry records for points in one game (41), points in one season (583) and average per game (22.4).

In addition to Vice, the Buffaloes must also worry about the Indians newly-discovered threat, Lloyd Mitchell. Mitchell is a 6-5 freshman from Detroit whose 34 points Tuesday at Alpine led all scorers.

The contrasting styles could help the Buffaloes tremendously. Since they will not have to "run" two nights in a row and should, therefore, be in better physical condition for Friday's encounter with McMurry. However, guard Gail Simpson will not make the trip due to illness and Joe McWilliams will see only limited action.

Coach Jimmy Viramontes is well satisfied with the Buffaloes shooting at this point. The team percentage is .536 with Kirby Pugh leading the individuals with 72.4 per cent on 21 of 29. Pugh, who tossed 34 into the nets against Sul Ross, leads in scoring (53) and rebounds (21). Cal Taylor's 20 boards is second best.

West Texas State holds huge margins over both schools in the all-time series, but the figures are deceiving. A closer examination could scare any Buff fan.

The Buffaloes lead Abilene Christian 24-8, but after winning 16 in a row from 1926-46, WTS has only three of the last nine played and only one of the last four in Abilene.

The series with McMurry has been one of streaks. WTS won the first 14, then put together a seven-game skein after a defeat. However, from 1958 through 1963, the Indians won seven in a row, but still show an 8-23 record against the Buffs.

Post Office Braces For Christmas Rush

PM's are beginning to have headaches.

It's that time of year when they begin pleading, mail begins stacking up, and working hours lengthen.

PM's are of course Post Masters. They are in charge of over-all mail service in each town. And the extent of their headache depends on the willingness of customers to help during a period of about one month.

The period is from Thanksgiving each year to Christmas. Mail begins coming in about the last of November, and steadily increases until a day or two before the big day of Santa Claus.

"The beginning of the Christmas rush has not begun yet, but we expect it the last of this week or the first of next week," Canyon Post Master Marion Higdon said.

Higdon pointed out this week that most Canyon folks have begun their mailing early.

"We don't expect as much congestion this year since people began earlier. But we do expect to handle more mail. The volume overall will be larger this year than in years past."

"Sectional center in Amarillo is making the parcel post handling much simpler," Higdon noted.

With two weeks to go before the Christmas gifts and cards are due, Higdon urges residents to mail now.

"We appreciate the cooperation of people so far. They are separating the mail into local and out-of-town bundles, which speeds up the process here and in other offices."

"We urge residents to use zip codes. The zip codes really will speed the mail along.

"If you do not know a zip code, call the Post Office, OL 5-2507, and we will be glad to look it up for you," Higdon urged.

Mailers can ease the PM's headaches this year. Just mail early and make sure gifts and card reach friends and family in time for Christmas.

After being promoted to specialist four, Richard H. Brotherton, 20, (left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Brotherton, of Canyon, receives the arm patch denoting his new rank from Capt. Larry R. Lubenow, commander of Headquarters Company, Ryukyu Island, during ceremonies in the islands. A dependent locator in the Office of the Adjutant General in the Ryukyu Islands, Brotherton entered the Army in January 1963 and completed basic training at Fork Polk, La. Atomic Energy Merit Badge Offered Scouts

Boy Scouts of Canyon are taking advantage of a new merit badge course being offered in Atomic Energy.

Four classes will be offered to some 16 boys of troop 31 before requirements for the badge are completed, according to Leroy Wooten, instructor of the course.

Equipment and counselors for the class are being offered by Mason and Hanger, Silas Mason Company Inc., which is the operating contractor of the Pantex Plant in Amarillo.

Speakers, who will address the boys each week, will discuss "Effects of Radiation" and explain uses of radiation equipment.

Scouts will make models of geiger counters study the structure of atoms, learn what radioactive material will do, and how to detect such material.

"We plan to hide some radioactive material in the building at one of the meetings and let the boys find it with the geiger counters."

"When the boys complete this course, they will be able to run radiation survey equipment in fallout shelters in case of an emergency."

"It will be good to have these boys around in case of an emergency to operate the equipment in the shelters," Wooten pointed out.

First class scouts and older are in the classes, which are being conducted in the First Methodist Church of Canyon.

"The merit badge in atomic energy was begun by the United States Atomic Energy Commission. They notified heads of atomic energy plants stating that the course was available."

"They asked for volunteers to teach the program in local towns. I volunteered at the Pantex Plant to help in the program," Wooten noted.

"The course is open to all scout troops, and we hope that all of them will request to begin the program."

"I was thrilled that many boys showed an interest in the course."

"This course is the first one to be taught in the Llano Estacado Council, so we are a pilot project."

"With the interest shown here, I think the program will be successful in other towns, as well as in other troops here in Canyon," Mereidith Warren, scoutmaster, said.

Plans to have the course taught each year are under discussion by scout officials in Canyon.

"We receive material, counselors and equipment from the Pantex Plant. We are going to use some equipment furnished by the Canyon Fire Department for instruction purposes for the boys."

"This course is valuable to these scouts. People should know more about radiation, its effects and how it is put to use," Wooten emphasized.

Boys enrolled in the first merit badge atomic energy course are Randy Warren, John Warren, Eugene Bonds, Ronnie Hager, Andy Sherrod, Mike LaGrone, Jim Rapkoch, Bill Lumnry, Ricky Warren, Larry Wooten, Neal Black, Tom Callarman, Pete Brasuel, Mike Branum, Bruce Shell and Stoney Ormsby.

"Anyone wishing to sit in on the classes are welcome. We meet every Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the basement of the First Methodist Church," Wooten urged.

WTSU Completes Evaluation Study

West Texas State University was officially recorded as having completed satisfactorily its institutional self-study and period visitation program at the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools in Louisville, Ky. last week.

Dr. Walter H. Juniper, dean of WTSU, reported that the action was by the College Delegate Assembly of the association, on recommendation of the Commission on Colleges. WTSU President James P. Cornette and Graduate Dean John Wilson, also attended the Louisville meeting.

Work on the self-study was begun at WTSU in 1961, when ten faculty committee were appointed to make a thorough study of all facets of the institution. All the college's faculty members participated in the study which was completed during 1961-62 and the fall semester of 1962.

Purpose of the study, required of all colleges and universities on the accredited list of the Southern Association, was "to explore the purpose of West Texas State, its organization, educational programs, with the objective of evaluating strengths and uncovering problems areas and receommending ways which might lead to institutional improvement," Dr. Juniper said.

The campus was visited during the spring semester of 1962-63 by a visiting committee of seven faculty members, selected by the association. The seven, all from other colleges, were to evaluate the findings of the self-study and to make recommendations to the association.

WTSU was cited last year as lacking in completion of the study, and a notation to that effect was placed in the official listing in the Proceedings of the Southern Association.

The action by the accrediting group Wednesday removed the notation from the official listing.

Ranchers Begin Hunt Tomorrow

Canyon ranchers near Palo Duro Canyon State Park are loading shotguns and rifles in final preparation for the second annual Aoudad Sheep hunt.

The three-day hunt begins 30 minutes before sunrise tomorrow, Friday, in Randall, Armstrong and Briscoe Counties for some 50 ranchers.

The going gets rough for the hunters and the hunted, but the mountain climbing sheep have made their home in the canyons several years and are adepted at the treacherous terrains.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has issued some 50 permits to 30 ranchers in the three-county area.

The permits allow only one sheep to each hunter, and the sheep must be killed on the ranch property of the issued permits.

Downed sheep, which must be shot with a shotgun or a rifle, will be taken to a checking station at the Harrell-Christian Ranch in Randall County or to a station in Briscoe County.

Hunting begins each morning, Friday through Sunday, 30 minutes before sunrise and ends 30 minutes after sunset each evening.

The hunt will officially close Sunday evening.

By Saturday things had thawed out and life resumed a normal trend.

Mrs. W. R. "Bill" Crow puts finishing touches on her merry Christmas tree, decorated with pink and orchid grapes, and pink roses tied with net pompons. Pink and rose balls add their glitter to the already sparkling tree. Mrs. Crow, a "creative designer", does most of the decorating in the Crow home, and with Christmas just around the corner, you can bet it'll be bright and cheery.

Mrs. W.R. Crow Displays Originality In Decorating

BY PHYLLIS BONNIE

The feeling you get on walking into Mrs. W. R. "Bill" Crow's home is somewhat akin to that of a small kiddo in a huge toyshop.

Dancing before your eyes are not visions of sugarplums and dolls, but permanent floral arrangements, decorator candles, oil painting, and a very merry Christmas tree.

Known as Dimple around Canyon, our talented person has made all these creations herself.

"I'm what they call a creative designer", she stated. "I don't copy much of anything, though I sometimes do plan ahead of time what I want to do."

Most of the time, however, her designs grow as she decorates, becoming part of her.

Mrs. Crow's floral arrangements are perhaps the brightest addition to her home.

Once she completes an arrangement, and the season of the year which she composed it for has passed, she takes the arrangement to a storage room.

An interesting feature of the Crow home is "Crow's Corral", reached by heading for the basement. On the walls are found many old brands, and branding irons, including Bar 4 and the Bar W, which were brands used by the Crow family.

Just around the corner in the corral is Majestic-Home Comfort stove. The stove is at least 75 years old, says Mrs. Crow, and was converted to gas after the Crows bought it.

Mts. Crow has devised an intriguing use for candles left from weddings, or other occasions which persons would like to remember. The candles are melted down and tha hot wax poured into a half-gallon milk carton filled with ice cubes. The end result is a "Memory Candle", which Mrs. Crow says "looks like little windows shining" when lit.

Mrs. Crow was born Dimple Brooks on her father's farm located south of Wayside. She and Bill were married in Tulia and lived "just about everywhere" until they moved to Canyon 26 years ago.

The Crows have four sons and a daughter. Sons Billie Ray and Carl Gene are Canyon residents, while Jack lives in Albuquerque, N. M., and Ronald D. is a student at Weatherford, Oklahoma. Their daughter, Rita Jo Neal, resides in Amarillo.

Also, there are 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Crow tells of her fondness for them as she says, "they are my pride and joy, absolutely".

Sewing and cooking are still another favorite of Mrs. Crow's, and although she is at home much of the time, she finds hours to participate in her church circle, and Phebean Sunbean Sunday school class at First Baptist Church.

She is also active in the Canyon Garden Club and Priscilla Needle club.

For your Christmas recipe box, Mrs. Crow has given a recipe for Pumpkin Bread. She states that it is a shade of pink, and just beautiful for Christmas sandwiches.

Sugar Beet Meetings In December

Fieldworker wages and beet prices will be discussed by Texas meetings this month, according to Donald Lloyd, manager of the Randall ACS office.

Interested beet growers may attend meetings either at San Antonio Dec. 16 or McAllen Dec. 18.

Lloyd said the purpose of the meetings is to receive evidence likely to be of assistance to the secretary of agriculture in determining (1) whether the wage rates established for sugar beet fieldworkers in the wage determination which became effective April 3, 1964, continue to be fair under existing circumstances, or whether such determination should be amended, and (2) fair and reasonable prices for the 1965 crop of sugar beets to be paid, under purchase or toll agreements, by producers who process sugar beets grown by other producers and who apply for payment under the act.

CANYON BUSINESS REVIEW

BUYER'S GUIDE

One of the most interesting, and certainly one of the most fun groceries in Canyon is Price's School Store and Grocery.

Roy Price, owner and operator, opens his store at 801 Fifth Avenue, each morning around 6:30 a.m., sometimes remaining open from 12-16 hours each day.

"We usually close about 7 at night, but if there are people still here, and still coming, we wait till they are all through", he says.

Price has operated his store in the same location since coming to Canyon some 18 years ago.

He moved to Canyon from Friona, where he was watch inspector with Santa Fe. Before that, Price was watch inspector for Santa Fe and the TD railway in Bonham.

Price repairs, buys, and sells antique watches and clocks.

The oldest clock which he has ever worked on is a 250-year old French clock. But, he says, "the oldest American clock I have ever repaired is one that is 180 years' old, and that I own myself.

The clock was purchased from a man whose great-great-grandfather had bought the clock when it was new, and operates with a solid wood movement.

During last summer alone, Price repaired 120-125 antique watches. He has also worked on the clock at the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum, which operates with three weights and three cables.

Many of the clocks Price sells are imported from Germany.

In the grocery, Price carries a complete line of school supplies, groceries and most every kind of candy.

"We have from 200-300 school children flocking in here each day at noon", Price explains.

The Prices, have two sons one who lives in Hereford, and one a Canyon resident, and a daughter, who lives in Columbus, Ohio. In addition, there are 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

We invite all Canyon residents who have never visited in Price's Store to go in and have a look around, and a chat with Price. We bet you'll wind up going back!

W. A. "Bill" Wilson is looking for several Santa Clauses in Canyon.

And they don't even have to dress for the part. They merely need to give a check or cash.

The Santa Claus part is being played for the C. B. Cable family. Mrs. Cable and her seven children have moved into their new home, offered and redecorated by Canyon folks. But about $450 is still owed on the home.

Wilson is asking folks for money to finish the project, which began last Spring. He hopes to complete the bill paying by Christmas, and he can do it with your help.

Send money to Justice of Peace, Randall County Courthouse Annex, Canyon, Texas. Or drop by and see Bill at his office in the annex.
